In a document dated 02 August 2004, the following events were noted:

First, in late May, 052 started a hunger strike. After five days, 052 was told that medical monitoring will have to take place. If he resisted, he would be strapped to a back brace and blood and urine would be extracted. The idea of having urine extracted via a catheter appeared to concern him—that night he ended his hunger strike.

As directed by JFCOM and CFFC, during the first two weeks in July, 052 received his Koran, was given permission to grow his beard—even after making a demands to grow one and the threat of providing physical resistance if he was subjected to another shave--and lastly, allowed to write letters.
